Maximum real-ear gain of in-the-ear hearing aids. Erickson, F.N., & Van Tassel, D.J. April 1991, 351–359.
Melodic, rhythmic, and timbral perception of adult cochlear implant users. Gfeller, K.E., & Lansing, C.R. Aug. 1991, 916–920.
Permanent threshold shift associated with overamplification by hearing aids. Macrae, J.H. April 1991, 403–414.
Prediction of deterioration in hearing due to hearing aid use. Macrae, J.H. June 1991, 661–670.
Teaching consonants to profoundly hearing-impaired speakers using palatometry. Fletcher, S.G., Dagenais, P.A., & Critz-Crosby, P. Aug. 1991, 929–942.
Teaching vowels to profoundly hearing-impaired speakers using glossometry. Fletcher, S.G., Dagenais, P.A., & Critz-Crosby, P. Aug. 1991, 943–956.
Toleration of background noises: Relationship with patterns of hearing aid use by elderly persons. Nabelek, A.K., Tucker, F.M., & Letowski, T.R. June 1991, 679–685.

OTOACOUSTIC EMISSIONS

Clinical applications of otoacoustic emissions. Lonsbury-Martin, B.L., Whitehead, M.L., & Martin, G.K. Oct. 1991, 964–981.

INTEROBSERVER RELIABILITY

Interobserver reliability using the phonetic level evaluation with severely and profoundly hearing-impaired children. Shaw, S., & Coggins, T.E. Oct. 1991, 989–999.

ELDERLY OR AGED

Masking-level differences in the elderly: A comparison of antiphasic and time-delay dichotic conditions. Pichora-Fuller, M.K., & Schneider, B.A. Dec. 1991, 1410–1422.

SPEECHREADING

An evaluation of CAST: A *C*omputer-Aided

Speechreading Training program. Gagne, J.-P., Dinon, D., & Parsons, J. Feb. 1991, 213–221.
The design of CAST (Computer-Aided Speechreading Training). Pichora-Fuller, M.K., & Benguerel, A.-P. Feb. 1991, 202–212.

EFFECTS MASKING & FILTERING ON SPEECH RECOGNITION BY NORMAL SUBJECTS

Frequency-importance and transfer functions for recorded CID W-22 word lists. Studebaker, G.A., & Sherbecoe, R.L. April 1991, 427–438.

Language

NATURE OF NORMAL LANGUAGE

Language Development

Anticipatory coarticulation in the speech of adults and young children: Acoustic, perceptual, and video data. Katz, W.F., Kripke, C., & Tallal, P. Dec. 1991, 1222–1232.
Comparison of idiom comprehension of normal children and children with mental retardation. Ezell, H.K., & Goldstein, H. Aug. 1991, 812–819.
The continuity of babble and speech in children with specific expressive language delay. Whitehurst, G.J., Smith, M., Fischel, J.E., Arnold, D.S., & Lonigan, C.J. Oct. 1991, 1121–1135.
Language and gesture in late talkers: A 1-year follow-up. Thal, D., Tobias, S., & Morrison, D. June 1991, 604–612.
Patterns of early lexical and cognitive development in premature and full-term infants. Menyuk, P., Liebergott, J., Schultz, M., Chesnick, M., & Ferrier, L. Feb. 1991, 88–94.
Semantic analyzability in childrens' understanding of idioms. Gibbs, R.W., Jr. June 1991, 613–620.
Speech and language production at age two: Evidence for tradeoffs between linguistic and phonetic processing. Nelson, L.K., & Bauer, H.R. Aug. 1991, 879–892.
Subject case marking and verb morphology in normally-developing and specifically-language-impaired children. Loeb, D.F., & Leonard, L.B. April 1991, 340–346.
Turn exchange behaviors of children with normally developing language: The influence of gender. Craig, H.K., & Evans, J.L. Aug. 1991, 866–878.
The validity of a parent report measure of vocabulary and syntax at 24 months. Dale, P.S. June 1991, 565–571.

Language Use in Adults

Analysis of topic as illustrated in a head-injured and normal adult. Mentis, M., & Prutting, C. June 1991, 583–595.
Anticipatory coarticulation in the speech of adults and young children: Acoustic, perceptual, and video data. Katz, W.F., Kripke, C., & Tallal, P. Dec. 1991, 1222–1232.
Effects of apparent listener knowledge and picture stimuli on aphasic and non-brain-damaged speakers' narrative discourse. Brenneise-Sarshad, R., Nicholas, L.E., & Brookshire, R.H. Feb. 1991, 168–176.
Following the rules: Consistency in sign. Luetke-Stahlman, B. Dec. 1991, 1293–1298.
Pragmatic and linguistic constraints on message formulation: A cross-linguistic study of English and ASL. Brown, P.M., Fischer, S.D., & Janis, W. Dec. 1991, 1346–1361.

Language Differences and Different Languages

Otitis media in early childhood and later language. Roberts, J.E., Burchinal, M.R., Davis, B.P., Collier, A.M., & Henderson, F.W. Oct. 1991, 1158–1168.
Pragmatic and linguistic constraints on message formulation: A cross-linguistic study of English and ASL. Brown, P.M., Fischer, S.D., & Janis, W. Dec. 1991, 1346–1361.

LANGUAGE DISORDERS

Aphasia and Other Adult Language Disorders

Analysis of topic as illustrated in a head-injured and normal adult. Mentis, M., & Prutting, C. June 1991, 583–595.
Automatic and effortful processing of emotional intonation after right or left hemisphere brain damage. Tompkins, C.A. Aug. 1991, 820–830.
Communication treatment for adults with dementia. Bourgeois, M.S. Aug. 1991, 831–844.
Effects of apparent listener knowledge and picture stimuli on aphasic and non-brain-damaged speakers' narrative discourse. Brenneise-Sarshad, R., Nicholas, L.E., & Brookshire, R.H. Feb. 1991, 168–176.
Poststroke depression: Neurologic, physiologic, diagnostic, and treatment implications. Swindell, C.S., & Hammons, J. April 1991, 325–333.
Redundancy enhances emotional inferencing by right- and left-hemisphere-damaged adults. Tompkins, C.A. Oct. 1991, 1142–1149.
The role of target word stress in auditory comprehension by aphasic listeners. Kimelman, M.D.Z. April 1991, 334–339.
Slow-to-recover brain-injured patients: Rationale for treatment. Ansell, B.J. Oct. 1991, 1017–1022.
Spontaneous narrative-discourse performance of parents of autistic individuals. Landa, R., Folstein, S., & Isaacs, C. Dec. 1991, 1339–1345.
Spouse attitudes toward the person with aphasia. Zraick, R.I., & Boone, D.R. Feb. 1991, 123–128.

Language Disorders in Children

Analysis of children's word finding skills in discourse. German, J.D., & Simon, E. April 1991, 309–316.
Approaches to the prediction of language abilities in a sample of children having developmental delays. Sommers, R.K. April 1991, 317–324.
Closed-head-injured children's performance on narrative tasks. Jordan, F.M., Murdoch, B.E., & Buttsworth, D.L. June 1991, 572–582.

Speech

NATURE OF NORMAL SPEECH

Development of Speech and Voice
Anticipatory coarticulation in the speech of adults and young children: Acoustic, perceptual, and video data. Katz, W.F., Kripke, C., & Tallal, P. Dec. 1991, 1222–1232.
Children's knowledge of auditory/articulatory correspondences: Phonologic and metaphonologic. Klein, H.B., Lederer, S.H., & Cortese, E.E. June 1991, 559–564.
Effects of long-term tracheostomy on spectral characteristics of vowel production. Kamen, R.S., & Watson, B.C. Oct. 1991, 1057–1065.

Anatomy and Physiology of the Adult Speech System
Assessment of the dynamics of vocal fold contact from the electroglottogram: Data from normal male subjects. Orlinkoff, R.F. Oct. 1991, 1066–1072.
Cerebral averaged potentials preceding oral movement. Wohlert, A.B., & Larson, C.R. Dec. 1991, 1387–1396.
A comparison of selected phonatory behaviors of healthy aged and young adults. Higgins, M.B., & Saxman, J.H. Oct. 1991, 1000–1010.
A continuous-flow model for phonatory reaction time. Ferrand, C.T., Blood, G.W., & Gilbert, H.R. June 1991, 517–525.
Laryngeal electromyographic activity in adductor and abductor spasmodic dysphonia. Watson, B.C., Schaefer, S.D., Freeman, F.J., Dembowski, J., Kondraske, G., & Roark, R. June 1991, 473–482.
Laryngeal reaction time profiles in spasmodic dysphonia: Relationship to cortical electrophysiologic abnormality. Freeman, F.J., Pool, K.D., Finitzo, T., Chapman, S.B., Mendelsohn, D., Devous, M.D., Schaefer, S.D., Close, L.G., & Kondraske, G.V. April 1991, 269–278.
Lip muscle EMG responses to oral pressure stimulation. McClean, M.D. April 1991, 248–251.
A model for neurologic sources of aperiodicity. Titze, I.R. June 1991, 460–472.
The relation between interangle span and in vivo resultant force in the perioral musculature. Barlow, S.M., & Muller, E.M. April 1991, 252–259.
Respiratory and laryngeal function during whisper. Stathopoulos, E.T., Hoit, J.D., Hixon, T.J., Watson, P.J., & Solomon, N.P. Aug. 1991, 761–767.
Teaching vowels to profoundly hearing-impaired speakers using glossometry. Fletcher, S.G., Dagenais, P.A., & Critz-Crosby, P. Aug. 1991, 943–956.
Thalamic-induced stuttering: Surgical observations. Andy, O.J., & Bhatnagar, S.C. Aug. 1991, 796–800.

Perception of Speech
Anticipatory coarticulation in the speech of adults and young children: Acoustic, perceptual, and video data. Katz, W.F., Kripke, C., & Tallal, P. Dec. 1991, 1222–1232.
Effect of consonant-vowel ratio modification on amplitude envelope cues for consonant recognition. Freyman, R.L., Nerbonne, G.P., & Cote, H.A. April 1991, 415–426.
The effects of digital quantization error on speech intelligibility and perceived speech quality. Harris, R.W., Brey, R.H., Chang, Y., Soria, B.D., & Hilton, L.M. Feb. 1991, 189–196.
Following up on treated stutterers: Studies of perceptions of fluency and job status. Craig, A.R., & Calver, P. April 1991, 279–284.
In reply to Attanasio. Craig, A.R. Oct. 1991, 1080–1081.
Key word signing: Perceived and acoustic differences between signed and spoken narratives. Windsor, J., & Fristoe, M. April 1991, 260–268.
Pitch effects on vowel roughness and spectral noise for subjects in four musical voice classifications. Newman, R.A., & Emanuel, F.W. Aug. 1991, 753–760.
The production and perception of syllable structure. Tuller, B., & Kelso, J.A.S. June 1991, 501–508.

Reliability & agreement of ratings of ataxic dysarthric speech samples with varying intelligibility. Sheard, C., Adams, R.D., & Davis, P.J. April 1991, 285–293.
Reliability and validity of infant speech-sound discrimination-in-noise thresholds. Nozza, R.J., Miller, S.L., Rossman, N.F., & Bond, L.C. June 1991, 643–650.
Stimulus ratio effects on speech discrimination for children and adults. Sussman, J.E. June 1991, 671–678.
Toleration of background noises: Relationship with patterns of hearing aid use by elderly persons. Nabelek, A.K., Tucker, F.M., & Letowski, T.R. June 1991, 679–685.

SPEECH AND VOICE DISORDERS

Articulation and Resonance Disorders

Change in speech breathing following cochlear implant in postlingually deafened adults. Lane, H., Perkell, J., Svirsky, M., & Webster, J. June 1991, 526–533.
Consonant lingual-palatal contacts produced by normal hearing and hearing-impaired children. Dagenais, P.A., & Critz-Crosby, P. Dec. 1991, 1423–1435.
The effects of minimal pairs treatment on the speech-sound production of two children with phonologic disorders. Saben, C.B., & Ingham, J.C. Oct. 1991, 1023–1040.
The establishment of open articulatory postures by deaf and hearing talkers. Tye-Murray, N. June 1991, 453–459.
Generalization patterns associated with training least phonological knowledge. Williams, A.L. Aug. 1991, 722–733.
School-aged children with phonologic disorders: Coexistence with other speech/language disorders. Ruscello, D.M., St. Louis, K.O., & Mason, N. April 1991, 236–242.
Speech deterioration in amyotrophic lateral sclerosis: A case study. Kent, R.D., Sufit, R.L., Rosenbek, J.C., Kent, J.F., Weismer, G., Martin, R.E., & Brooks, B.R. Dec. 1991, 1269–1275.
Stimulability as a factor in the phonological generalization of misarticulating preschool children. Powell, T.W., Elbert, M., & Dinnsen, D.A. Dec. 1991, 1318–1328.
Teaching consonants to profoundly hearing-impaired speakers using palatometry. Fletcher, S.G., Dagenais, P.A., & Critz-Crosby, P. Aug. 1991, 929–942.
Teaching vowels to profoundly hearing-impaired speakers using glossometry. Fletcher, S.G., Dagenais, P.A., & Critz-Crosby, P. Aug. 1991, 943–956.
Toward a technology of generalization: How many exemplars are sufficient? Elbert, M., Powell, T.W., & Swartzlander, P. Feb. 1991, 81–87.

Craniofacial and Other Anomalies

Accuracy of the pressure-flow method in estimating induced velopharyngeal orifice area: Effects of the flow coefficient. Zajac, D.J., & Yates, C.C. Oct. 1991, 1073–1078.
A preliminary investigation concerning the use of nasometry in identifying patients with hyponasality and/or nasal airway impairment. Dalston, R.M., Warren, D.W., & Dalston, E.T. Feb. 1991, 11–18.

Physiologically Based Speech Disorders

Accuracy of the pressure-flow method in estimating induced velopharyngeal orifice area: Effects of the flow coefficient. Zajac, D.J., & Yates, C.C. Oct. 1991, 1073–1078.

Effects of long-term tracheostomy on spectral characteristics of vowel production. Kamen, R.S., & Watson, B.C. Oct. 1991, 1057–1065.

The effects of minimal pairs treatment on the speech-sound production of two children with phonologic disorders. Saben, C.B., & Ingham, J.C. Oct. 1991, 1023–1040.

Effects of thermal application of dysphagia after stroke. Rosenbek, J.C., Robbins, J., Fishback, B., & Levine, R.L. Dec. 1991, 1257–1268.

The effects of visual barriers used during auditory training on sound transmission. Niday, K.J., & Elfenbein, J.L. June 1991, 694–696.

The efficacy of script contexts in language comprehension intervention with children who have mental retardation. Kim, Y.T., & Lombardino, L.J. Aug. 1991, 845–857.

Enhancement of word-recognition performance with a filtering technique. Wilson, R.H., Preece, J.P., & Crowther, C.S. Dec. 1991, 1436–1438.
The establishment of open articulatory postures by deaf and hearing talkers. Tye-Murray, N. June 1991, 453–459.
An evaluation of CAST: A Computer-Aided Speechreading Training program. Gagne, J.-P., Dinon, D., & Parsons, J. Feb. 1991, 213–221.
An exploratory study of the interaction between language teaching methods and child characteristics. Yoder, P.J., Kaiser, A.P., & Alpert, C. Feb. 1991, 155–167.
Family history as a basis for subgrouping people who stutter. Poulos, M.G., & Webster, W.G. Feb. 1991, 5–10.
Family history in developmental expressive language delay. Whitehurst, G.J., Arnold, D.S., Smith, M.S., Fischel, J.E., Lonigan, C.J., & Valdez-Manchaca, M.C. Oct. 1991, 1150–1157.
Following the rules: Consistency in sign. Luetke-Stahlman, B. Dec. 1991, 1293–1298.
Following up on treated stutterers: Studies of perceptions of fluency and job status. Craig, A.R., & Calver, P. April 1991, 279–284.
Frequency discrimination as a function of signal frequency and level in normal-hearing and hearing-impaired listeners. Freyman, R.L., & Nelson, D.A. Dec. 1991, 1362–1386.
Frequency response of the Fourcin electroglottograph and measurement of temporal aspects of laryngeal movement during swallowing. Perlman, A.L., & Liang, H. Aug. 1991, 791–795.
Frequency-importance and transfer functions for recorded CID W-22 word lists. Studebaker, G.A., & Sherbecoe, R.L. April 1991, 427–438.
Generalization patterns associated with training least phonological knowledge. Williams, A.L. Aug. 1991, 722–733.
High-level psychophysical tuning curves: Forward masking in normal-hearing and hearing-impaired listeners. Nelson, D.A. Dec. 1991, 1233–1249.
High-level psychophysical tuning curves: Simultaneous masking by pure tones and 100-Hz wide noise bands. Nelson, D.A., & Fortune, T.W. April 1991, 360–373.
High-level psychophysical tuning curves: Simultaneous masking with different noise bandwidths. Nelson, D.A., & Fortune, T.W. April 1991, 374–378.
Hypothesis-testing abilities of language-impaired children. Ellis Weismer, S. Dec. 1991, 1329–1338.
In reply to Attanasio. Craig, A.R. Oct. 1991, 1080–1081.
Intelligibility of telephone speech for the hearing impaired when various microphones are used for acoustic coupling Janota, C.P., & Janota, J.O. Feb. 1991, 183–188.
Interobserver reliability using the phonetic level evaluation with severely and profoundly hearing-impaired children. Shaw, S., & Coggins, T.E. Oct. 1991, 989–999.
Investigating relationships between maternal input and rate of children's language development: A reanalysis of Yoder. Richards, B.J. April 1991, 347–350.
Key word signing: Perceived and acoustic differences between signed and spoken narratives. Windsor, J., & Fristoe, M. April 1991, 260–268.
Language and gesture in late talkers: A 1-year follow-up. Thal, D., Tobias, S., & Morrison, D. June 1991, 604–612.
Language skills of children and adolescents with Down syndrome: I. Comprehension. Chapman, R.S., Schwartz, S.E., & Kay-Raining Bird, E. Oct. 1991, 1106–1120.
The language-reading relationship in normal and reading-disabled children. Snyder, L.S., & Downey, D.M. Feb. 1991, 129–140.
Laryngeal electromyographic activity in adductor and abductor spasmodic dysphonia. Watson, B.C., Schaefer, S.D., Freeman, F.J., Dembowski, J., Kondraske, G., & Roark, R. June 1991, 473–482.
Laryngeal perturbation analysis: Minimum length of analysis window. Karnell, M.P. June 1991, 544–548.
Laryngeal reaction time profiles in spasmodic dysphonia: Relationship to cortical electrophysiologic abnormality. Freeman, F.J., Pool, K.D., Finitzo, T., Chapman, S.B., Mendelsohn, D., Devous, M.D., Schaefer, S.D., Close, L.G., & Kondraske, G.V. April 1991, 269–278.
Lip muscle EMG responses to oral pressure stimulation. McClean, M.D. April 1991, 248–251.
Low frequency energy deficit in electrolaryngeal speech. Qi, Y., & Weinberg, B. Dec. 1991, 1250–1256.
Magnitude estimation and cross-modal matching of auditory and lingual vibrotactile sensation by normal speakers and stutterers. Harris, D., Fucci, D., & Petrosino, L. Feb. 1991, 177–182.
Management of vocal nodules: A regional survey of otolaryngologists and speech-language pathologists. Allen, M.S., Pettit, J.N., & Sherblom, J.C. April 1991, 229–235.
Masking-level differences in the elderly: A comparison of antiphasic and time-delay dichotic conditions. Pichora-Fuller, M.K., & Schneider, B.A. Dec. 1991, 1410–1422.
Maternal linguistic input to toddlers with slow expressive language development. Paul, R., & Elwood, T.J. Oct. 1991, 982–988.
Maximum real-ear gain of in-the-ear hearing aids. Erickson, F.N., & Van Tassel, D.J. April 1991, 351–359.
Melodic, rhythmic, and timbral perception of adult cochlear implant users. Gfeller, K.E., & Lansing, C.R. Aug. 1991, 916–920.
A model for neurologic sources of aperiodicity. Titze, I.R. June 1991, 460–472.
Multidimensional scaling analysis of dysphonia in two speaker groups. Kempster, G.B., Kistler, D.J., & Hillenbrand, J. June 1991, 534–543.
Munchausen syndrome by proxy: Mother fabricates infant's hearing impairment. Kahn, G., & Goldman, E. Aug. 1991, 957–959.
Neuroimaging studies do not prove the existence of brain abnormalities in spastic (spasmodic) dysphonia. Aronson, A.E., & Lagerlund, T.D. Aug. 1991, 801–805.
Notched-noise measures of frequency selectivity in adults and children using fixed-masker-level and fixed-signal-level presentation. Hall, J.W., & Grose, J.H. June 1991, 651–660.
Observational learning of comprehension monitoring skills in children exhibiting mental retardation. Ezell, H.K., & Goldstein, H. Feb. 1991, 141–154.
